

Figure S2. Connection between the EOVs and international conventions considering how each of these variables acknowledges the identified pressures (using the upper third values of the Relevance Index for pressures for each of the variables). Numbers associated with the variables on the left correspond to the number of conventions that each of those variables is addressing through one or more pressures; numbers associated with the conventions on the right correspond to the number of variables that address one or more pressures for each convention. “Fish” includes sharks, rays and bony fish. Abbreviations of conventions given in Table S2.