

Correction to: Effective governance of marine recreational fisheries in Europe is needed to maximize the societal benefits of its fisheries

This is a correction to: Fabio Grati, Kieran Hyder, Estanis Mugerza, Robert Arlinghaus, Jerome Baudrier, Brigid Bell, Luca Bolognini, Annica I De Groot, Hugo Diogo, Kevin Haase, Pablo Pita, Warren Potts, Zachary Radford, Amelie Regimbart, Martina Scanu, Christian Skov, Didzis Ustups, Thomas Verleye, Jon Helge Vølstad, Marc Simon Weltersbach, Harry V Strehlow, Effective governance of marine recreational fisheries in Europe is needed to maximize the societal benefits of its fisheries, ICES Journal of Ma- rine Science, 2024;, fsae169, <https://doi.org/10.1093/icesjms/fsae169>.

In the version originally published, the third author was incorrectly listed as Estanis Murgerza. This has been corrected to read Estanis Mugerza. Additionally a reference to the Common Fishery Policy in the abstract has been corrected to read Common Fisheries Policy, and the reference to '77.6 million days' in the Introduction has been clarified to read '77.6 million days per year'.